

Short CV Iryna Gordienko

Professor Iryna Gordienko is obstetrician-gynecologist, Chief of the Department of Fetal Medicine, at the State Institute “Institute of Pediatrics, Obstetrics and Gynecology named after academician O.M. Luk’yanova of The National Academy of Medical Sciences of Ukraine”, Kyiv. For over 30 years professor Gordienko is one of the leading specialists in Ultrasound and invasive prenatal diagnosis. She personally performed tens of thousands ultrasound examinations of fetuses. Her major areas of scientific research now are standardization, unification and indexation of ultrasound measurements. Professor Gordienko has 16 patented methods of prenatal examination and presents 4 of them on this Congress.