

Professor Jacky Nizard, MD, PhD.

Head of obstetrics at the department of Obstetrics and Gynecology,
Groupe Hospitalier Pitié-Salpêtrière,
Sorbonne University
Paris, France

Born in Israel, raised in Canada, studied medicine in France and did his fellowship in the Netherlands.

Trained in Obstetrics and Gynaecology in Paris, France

Was trained in MFM, before specializing in maternal medicine.

Professor of Obstetrics and Gynaecology at Sorbonne University with responsibilities in the national curriculum for medical students, for training in Obstetrics and Gynaecology, and for numerous specific programs.

Clinical expertise in Maternal Medicine, especially in Neurology, Cardiology, Obesity and Nutrition, etc.

Author of more than 100 peer reviewed articles

Director of 3 diplomas from Sorbonne University (all online)

- Maternal Medicine
- Contraception and Gynaecology for midwives
- And a new program opening this coming year: Sexual Health for both healthcare professionals and non-healthcare professionals

More than 20 years of international responsibilities

- President of the French National Trainee association of Obstetrics and Gynaecology
- Secretary General of ENTOG
- French representative at EBCOG
- Executive member, President Elect and President until last November.
- Active participant in hospital visits, delivering TTT courses across Europe, exam revision courses and invigilating for both part 1 and part 2 EFOG exams